Ballet Fantastique is a nonprofit chamber ballet company and academy co-founded and directed by mother-daughter team Donna Bontrager and Hannah Bontrager in 2000.

Ballet Fantastique's Academy has attracted international attention for its unique fusion of hands-on personal coaching with training in the renowned Russian Vaganova method. Scholarships are provided to talented young dancers in need, and no student has been turned away for lack of funds.

The Chamber Company's professional dancers earn critical recognition as "impressive and spectacular" for their bright virtuosity, innovative concerts, and collaborations with groups such as Eugene Symphony, Oregon Mozart Players, and Oregon Shakespeare Festival (Register Guard, 2005).

BFan's in-school outreach program, the EXPERIENCE DANCE! Project, is on the forefront on integrating dance and music education into public schools. The organization is registered on Guidestar and Network for Good as a 501(c)3 nonprofit public charity.
